Alena Holmes, Assistant Professor
Sue Chandler, Lecturer

DESCRIPTION:

The music education faculty have been working to align course assignments throughout the music education degree to facilitate the students’ successful completion of new edTPA requirements for licensure and successful field placements/student teaching placements. We will need to look at the data, determine the strengths and weaknesses of our current curriculum in terms of edTPA preparation, and make adjustments to assignments. This will entail altering curriculum in all methods courses, creating new assignments and rubrics, and making sure the process is streamlined throughout the instrumental, choral, and general music degrees.
