What does it mean to fight for freedom? Why would anyone fight against freedom? How does one become a “freedom fighter”? Are we free today?

A person cannot answer these questions without understanding the past. This course and trip will help students find those answers.

WHERE WILL I GO? WHAT WILL I STUDY?
This inspirational week-long bus tour will take students to sites that played a significant role in the civil rights movement of the 1950s-1960s. Students will travel to Memphis, the Mississippi Delta, Selma, Montgomery, Birmingham, and Chicago, plus a separate day trip to Milwaukee. This is an opportunity to learn about a transformative chapter in American history as students visit the places where history was made. The trip will highlight both the movement as it happened and as it is remembered in public spaces ranging from major civil rights museums to nondescript bridges. There will be opportunities to meet people involved in civil rights struggles past and present. This will truly give students a wealth of knowledge on the civil rights movement and its legacies.

WHO CAN COME?
This course is for students with at least sophomore status who have an interest in the subject matter. Instructor consent is required.

HISTORY/AFRIAMR 241, 3 UNDERGRADUATE CREDITS
ESTIMATED PROGRAM FEE:

$600 which includes transportation, local accommodations, two group meals, and entrance fees. Financial aid may apply. The estimated program fee is based on 30 paying participants.

CLASS MEETINGS:

In addition to the spring break trip, the class includes three pre-travel and one post-travel class sessions, and one field trip to Milwaukee, all mandatory. Class sessions will be held on Mondays, 9:30-10:45 on February 9, February 23, March 9 and April 27. The day-long field trip to Milwaukee will take place on Friday, April 17.

Contact:

Kari Borne - Program Manager
Domestic Travel Study
2010A Roseman
800 W. Main Street
Whitewater, WI 5319
Phone: 262-472-1003
bornek@uww.edu

Nikki Mandell - Professor
History Department
5236 Laurentide
800 W. Main Street
Whitewater, WI 53190
Phone: 262-472-1523
mandelln@uww.edu

For More Information Visit:
http://www.uww.edu/conteduc/travel

Applications due before registration can be approved.
Space is limited.

This is a travel study course offered by the Department of History in cooperation with the Office of Continuing Education, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.