College of Business & Economics Assurance of Learning Committee:

Charge of the Committee:

- To review Assurance of Learning (AoL) goals, processes, evaluations, rubrics, and results at the undergraduate level.
- To discuss and summarize results and report them to departments, advisory boards, the college, and students.
- To suggest/implement processes for closing the loop. To use AoL data to make improvements.
- To communicate findings and suggestions the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee.

Committee Characteristics:

The AoL Committee will meet monthly through the academic year. Members should be actively engaged in teaching courses in which college AoL outcomes are measured in the BBA. Committee members should be willing to attend assessment conferences and share their expertise with the college.

Members should exhibit an interest in using AoL as a means of improving student learning.

The AoL Committee will consist of eight members. Membership includes the Director of Accreditation (who will convene the committee), the Assistant Dean, and candidates from each department. The candidates should be nominated by department chairs and may include the chairs themselves.
