FS1213-35 Office Hours Policy, revised. (attached, action item) Ahmadi/Nam motion FS1213-35 motion approved with three friendly amendments after discussion and Mandell's request to call the question was unanimously approved.
FACULTY OFFICE HOURS POLICY FS 1213-35

Purpose: Office hours are a time and/or place where students may seek assistance in completing assignments, understanding course material, exploring new ideas and educational and career opportunities beyond specific course requirements.

Faculty bear primary responsibility and authority for determining office hours (when, where, length of time), as consistent with WI statute 36.09 (4). In doing so, faculty office hours should adhere to the following general principles.

General Principles:

1. Each department, through a department faculty approved process, should establish an office hours policy for faculty members within that department (when, where, length of time).
2. General consistency within colleges is encouraged. In order to achieve this, department chairs should share department-approved office hours policy at a scheduled college Deans & Chairs meeting, annually. Chairs should bring recommendations from that meeting back to department faculty to reconsider adjustments to department office hours policy that will bring greater consistency with other college departments.
3. Office hours may be comprised of face-to-face meeting time and/or on-line access.
4. Office hours should be posted on course syllabi and outside the faculty member's office.
5. Office hours should be equitable within departments. The faculty member's course load and course type (eg: face-to-face, on-line, intern supervision) should be considered in determining equity.
6. Office hour policies should ensure that students may consult with their faculty within a reasonable time frame. However, faculty members may place reasonable limits on their availability.

WI statute 36.09 (4). FACULTY. The faculty of each institution, subject to the responsibilities and powers of the board, the president and the chancellor of such institution, shall be vested with responsibility for the immediate governance of such institution and shall actively participate in institutional policy development. As such, the faculty shall have the primary responsibility for academic and educational activities and faculty personnel matters. The faculty of each institution shall have the right to determine their own faculty organizational structure and to select representatives to participate in institutional governance. [bolding added]

Transmitted to the Chancellor on 2/26/13, interim disapproval by the Chancellor on 2/26/13 with the response:

“At this point, I will not approve Faculty Senate Motion FS1213-35. I have the following major concerns:

1. Office hours policies should be a shared issue involving faculty and administration. These policies affect the quality of our programs and of our interactions with students. While faculty have an important role in establishing these policies, department chairs and deans necessarily have roles when students come to them with concerns and when other faculty raise issues.
2. The proposed policy focuses on department level policies. While it is important to have such policies, colleges may and currently do have policies related to office hours that have been established by the college faculty.

I would ask that we get together a group of individuals to discuss ways to address issues so that we can develop a policy that meets all of our needs. I'd like to discuss with you who might be invited to participate."

Whereas students are often confused on how to cleanly, properly, and efficiently print their AR (and resort to methods that often result in the loss of critical, otherwise informative formatting), and the use of different browsers results in different print formats including type so small as to be virtually unreadable, and

Whereas the advising report (AR) is a key document in the advising process, and

Whereas it is recognized that consistency in the way the AR is presented in its print presentation, including the information, formatting, and layout is central to understanding and interpreting the AR, and

Whereas an effective AR print function would save paper resources and personnel time,

Let it be resolved that:

1. the Registrar's Office be directed to develop and make available via the WINS a clear, easily accessible, consistent print function for the AR no later than the end of the 2012-2013 academic year;
2. and the above-noted print function produce an accurate, ADA compliant, readable format-preserved AR across the several browsers, including Internet Explorer, Firefox, and Google Chrome.

MEMO

DATE: October 9, 2012

TO: Susan Johnson and Lauren Smith
UWW Faculty Representatives to the UWS Flexible Degree Model Committee

FROM: UWW Faculty Senate

RE: Representing UWW faculty on the Flexible Degree Model Committee

---

Thank you for your time and efforts representing UWW faculty on this important committee. Please convey the following Resolution, concerns and questions at meetings of the Flex Degree Model Committee. We look forward to your reports from this committee.

---

Resolution:

Whereas the University of Wisconsin System has announced its creation of the UW Flexible Degree Model and;

Whereas, President Kevin P. Reilly of the UW System has categorized<sup>1</sup> this model as a modular degree containing “formats that are self-paced, competency-based, and optimally blend online and face-to-face learning,” and has established FD Faculty Committee, which will meet from early October to early December 2012;

Therefore, be it resolved that the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Faculty Senate charge Lauren Smith and Susan Johnson to represent the Senate and our faculty at large in this endeavor. We charge our representatives to convey to this committee, President Reilly, and the Regents our Faculty Senate’s concerns with the rapid pace at which this program, which represents a radical departure from how the University System currently awards degrees, is being implemented. The Whitewater Faculty Senate requests that these meetings be rescheduled to ensure that university representatives from throughout the UW System have reasonable time to report back to and receive input from their respective faculty governance bodies. We also charge our representatives to convey our concerns about the potential negative impact on existing academic programs that may arise from funding this endeavor at a time when our System has experienced historical funding cuts as a whole. We request full financial transparency throughout the FD development process.

Concerns:

1. Quality of UW degrees-faculty governance: Any UWS Flex Degree must incorporate structures recognizing that decisions about delivery formats, curriculum rotations, course content, and teaching and learning standards are matters of faculty expertise, academic freedom and faculty governance at each degree granting institution.
2. Quality of UW degrees-avoid degrading educational quality: Any UWS Flex Degree should disallow (a) purchased or sub-contracted content or delivery and (b) use of UWS faculty-created course materials (i.e. e-lectures) without approval and compensation. [<http://www.insidehighered.com/news/2012/06/06/mcgraw-hill-wgu-announce-deal-would-shift-accountability-content-provider>]
3. Student access and affordability: Any UWS Flex Degree must be designed and pilot-tested to ensure that it does not reproduce the well-documented problems connected with existing programs of this nature, particularly evident in recent reports of high dropout rates and increased costs and debt-burdens endemic to for-profit programs of this type.

 [<http://ifap.ed.gov/ifap/ifapMedia.jsp>]

4. Technical capacity-record keeping: Prior to instituting any Flex Degree program, UWS should have a demonstrated capacity to accurately and quickly provide across-the-system access to student academic records, that these transfers automatically incorporate articulation agreements, that a system is in place to update student records in a timely manner to reflect curricular changes as they occur at each UW campus, and that data regarding progress to flex degree will be collected and accessible for program improvement.
5. Technical capacity-library resources: Prior to instituting any Flex Degree program UWS should establish and implement a plan to provide equal access to all library resources in the UWS (parallel to the proposed portability of courses across institutions).

Questions:

Chancellor Richard Telfer denies Faculty Senate Motion FS1213-05c.
Please see his comments below.

I have three issues with the resolution:

1. The addition of the words “this person may confer with the faculty member” does not add clarity to the policy for any of the three instances (III.C.4.g.(2)(a)v), III.E.1.d, and III.e.2.c.(2)(c)).
2. The addition of the words “and speak on behalf of the appellant during the reconsideration session” does not add clarity. While I am supportive of allowing a faculty member to receive assistance from a faculty assistant during a reconsideration meeting, the Department must be allowed to hear directly from the individual requesting reconsideration. The proposed change in the policy does not clarify this point. Instead, it could be interpreted to prevent the Department from hearing directly from the appellant.
3. The addition of the words “and speak on behalf of the appellant during the appeal session(s)” does not provide clarity. While I am supportive of allowing a faculty assistant to speak during the session, the Faculty Appeals, Grievances, and Disciplinary Hearing Committee must be able to establish procedures for the appeals session. The policy must allow the Committee to hear directly from the appellant. The proposed change in the policy does not clarify this point. Instead, it could be interpreted to prevent the Committee from hearing directly from the appellant.

FS 1213-09 Fall 2012 Election Education Resolution

Whereas the University's strategic plan emphasizes service and outreach to the local community;

Whereas recently adopted LEAP (Liberal Education, America's Promise) goals strongly emphasize civic engagement and critical thinking in our students;

Whereas changes to voter registration rules in Wisconsin – partially blocked by recent court decisions – may result in confusion on the requirements for registering to vote;

Whereas national, state, and local elections will occur on November 6, 2012, including the presidential election and a Wisconsin Senate race;

Let it be resolved that:

1. The University has a responsibility to serve as a forum both for our students and the regional community for discussing political issues, including significant elections, and the impact these elections may have on our institution, region, state, and nation.
2. The University is encouraged to implement a variety of measures to educate students and community members on voter registration requirements.
3. Colleges and departments are encouraged to organize election forums relevant to their mission and students.
4. These forums should represent the broad spectrum of ideas within our current political climate and provide an opportunity to explore these ideas to an extent not evident in the mainstream media. They should model the type of discussion and discourse that we would like to see in the broader community and respectfully incorporate diverse views.
