

A LEARN Center Workshop

From Combat to Classroom: Transitions of Modern Warriors

Veterans of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan attending college bring a variety of life experiences that can both enhance and hinder their success in institutions of higher learning. This presentation aims to educate faculty and staff about issues unique to these student veterans and to provide a forum for discussion about what it is like to go from combat to a classroom.

Presenter: Cari Myles

Cari Myles received her Master's Degree in Social Work from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. She is licensed as an independent clinical social worker (LCSW) by the State of Wisconsin and is certified as a Brain Injury specialist by the Academy of Certified Brain Injury Specialists (ACBIS). She provides PTSD treatment and is a member of the Polytrauma Treatment and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) clinics at the hospital. Prior to coming to the VA, Ms. Myles worked as a civilian social worker on US military installations in Turkey, Germany and Okinawa, Japan.

Where: UC 259A

When: Thursday, 11/10, 12:30-1:30 pm, Lunch Included

RSVP by 11/03

To reserve a place, please contact the LEARN Center: 262-472-5242 or learn@uww.edu. Register online at: <http://signup.uww.edu> using your Net-ID. The workshop is listed under "LEARN Center."

