2011 UW-W SUMMER CHOIR CAMP
STUDENT INFORMATION SHEET

REGISTRATION

Registration will be held on Sunday, June 12 between 12:00 p.m. and 1:45 p.m. in the Campus Visitor Center (see enclosed map). All campers should report to the Visitor Center upon your arrival on campus. ALL REMAINING FEE PAYMENTS WILL BE MADE AT THIS TIME. The Health History Questionnaire/Consent Form is to be turned in also. Do not bring your luggage or personal belongings into the Visitor's Center. At this time you will receive your meal card, T-shirt, room assignment, and I.D. badge. Your I.D. badge is to be worn at all times. After registration, all campers will report to Arey Hall. Campers will meet in the Arey basement at 1:45 p.m. for a brief meeting. We will then go over as a group to the Center of The Arts for a camp orientation meeting and for information about auditions.

CHOIR AUDITIONS

Come prepared to sing a song you know or a choral part you have sung. During your audition you will be asked to sing vocalizes (warm-ups), scale patterns, and the traditional song "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

HONORS RECITALS

A number of outstanding solo and ensemble performers from the camp will be invited, after auditions are held, to perform in the Jr. High Honors Recital on Tuesday or the Sr. High Honors Recital on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Bring music for the accompaniment to camp. We will provide the accompanist. Students from the same school are encouraged to bring duets or small ensembles as well.

ROOMMATES

Students are housed two to a room. A space for roommate preference was provided on the application form. If no request was received, students will be assigned to a roommate of approximately the same age and grade level.

ATTENDANCE

Attendance is mandatory at all camp classes, rehearsals, concerts, and other scheduled activities. Students may not leave campus at any time during the camp without written permission from parents and the head counselor.

IN CASE OF ILLNESS

Should you require medical attention, an assessment will be made by the camp health supervisor and appropriate measures will be taken. UW-Whitewater camps have the full cooperation of Fort Atkinson Memorial Hospital and its emergency room personnel. If you have any health problems, including allergies, or are under any medication, please notify the Head Counselor, Robin Helbing, at registration.

CLOTHING

Bring clothes for 6 days. Washers, dryers, and ironing boards are available. You must provide your own soap and iron. Casual dress is suitable for rehearsals, classes, meals, and recreation. A sweater, sweatshirt, or jacket may be appropriate for classroom wear as the Center of The Arts is air-conditioned. The Friday concert will be dress-up: dresses for the girls (conservative, please), shirts and trousers for the boys. The wearing of sport coats is not encouraged. No jeans or tennis/running shoes at the Friday concert, please.

2011 UW-W CHOIR CAMP
LETTER TO PARENTS

Dear Parents,

Greetings and welcome to Choir Camp 2011! The faculty and staff have worked hard to plan a week filled with great music-making and fun activities. We know that our campers come from a variety of backgrounds and have different sets of experiences. Some may be apprehensive about being away from home or making friends, while others may be excited to spend a week away from their usual social circle. Whatever the circumstance, the faculty and staff at choir camp are ready to ensure that every camper has a great week with us at UW-Whitewater. But to make this happen, we need your child's help. Good behavior and good attitudes are a necessity. Before camp begins, please take an opportunity to discuss the camp experience and the importance of proper conduct with your child. Aside from the obvious importance of following camp rules, making safe choices, and treating camp personnel, fellow campers, and campus property with respect, the faculty and staff request that parents discuss the following policies with their children:

Cell Phone Use: We understand that most campers will be bringing a cell phone with them to camp. Campers are more than welcome to call home at appropriate times to update loved ones on their camp experiences. The cell phone should not, however, serve as a means of distraction or disruption to your child or any other camper in classes, rehearsals, meetings, or concerts. Please encourage your child to turn off and put away his/her cell phone during these times as a way of showing respect to teachers, conductors, fellow students, and to the musical experience choir camp is designed to provide.

Concert Behavior: A unique aspect of choir camp is that campers attend nightly concerts given by faculty, staff and fellow campers. These concerts are designed to be learning experiences where campers can see what professional musicians, college students, and people their age are capable of. Nightly concerts are casual events for which dressing up is not necessary. However, good behavior is especially important during these times. While concerts are going on, all campers should be sitting up straight in their seats, focusing on whatever is happening on stage. Unacceptable concert behaviors include eating, drinking, making noise, talking, passing notes, playing handheld games, texting, moving in and out of the recital hall during a performance, placing feet or legs on the seats in the next row, and sleeping. These concerts are not long (between 45 and 60 minutes each) and good behavior as a form of respect to the performers will be expected the whole time. On the last day of camp, all of the ensembles will be giving a final concert that we hope parents will attend. Please reinforce the behavior we have been expecting all week from your child by being a respectful audience member.

In Case of Problems: We hope that camp passes without any problems for every camper. However, in case of any issues, the camp counselors are your child's first line of defense. Counselors often get messages in the morning from a worried parent who received a call from their child late in the night about a problem they were having with a roommate, someone in class or homesickness. By the time the counselors can get the problem straightened out, it's often hours later. Please encourage your child to bring any problem they are having to a counselor right away. Also, if your child calls you with a problem during the week of camp, before you hang up the phone and call UW-Whitewater, please ask your child if they have talked to a counselor about the issue. If they haven't, please tell them to do so. The sooner the counselors know about the issue, the sooner it can be resolved.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation on these issues. With you and your child's help, we are looking forward to a great week of camp!
