ABOUT THE CAMP

The Warhawk Co-ed Tennis Camps are known as some of the best tennis camps in the Midwest. They are intended for players between the ages of 12–17. These camps prepare campers for high school and tournament play by focusing on mental toughness and strategy. Each camp is broken into six different levels from intermediate to state ranked tournament players, so there is fun for everyone. Bring a friend or doubles partner to add to the enjoyment.

NIGHT ACTIVITIES

Night activities are the highlight of this camp. Every night we conclude with the ever popular High Intensity, which is a series of high energy drills with music. Prior to High Intensity, the camp offers a variety of evening activities including tennis tournaments and a talent show. If you have a skill, talent or skit, be prepared to show it off. Bring your instrument, humor or personality to join in the fun or just watch.

REMINDERS

Do not wear brand new shoes to camp without breaking them in first. Blisters are often a problem considering the long days of tennis in the hot sun. So play plenty of tennis prior to camp to prepare yourself. Do not plan on playing in outside tournaments during the week at camp or leaving early. We play plenty of tennis and need specific numbers, so plan on staying with us the entire week. We have a full service pro shop for stringing, grips, shoes, hats, rackets and clothing.

REFUNDS

Partial refunds are given for illness or injury only, and are prorated on a daily basis. Refunds are not given for inclement weather. We will do our absolute best to make up lost time due to poor weather with video analysis or seminars on tennis topics. All requests for refunds must be submitted in writing to the Continuing Education Services Office or to Coach Frank Barnes. Email to cesevents@uww.edu.

FRANK BARNES HEAD COACH

The Camp director is University of Wisconsin-Whitewater's Men's and Women's Head Tennis Coach, Frank Barnes.
