ANTHROPL 220 TOMBS, TEMPLES & BURIED TREASURE: INTRODUCTION TO ARCHAEOLOGY ... This course introduces student to the basic work of archaeology. It aims to dispel popular myths about the field perpetuated by the popular media. In place of those myths it presents methods of archaeological research and the discoveries such research has produced. These discoveries reveal the 4 million year history of humans and their ancestors before the invention of written records.

Sociology

SOCIOLOGY 240 PRINCIPLES OF SOCIOLOGY ... This course will introduce students to the ways in which sociologists use social theory and research methods to study human group behavior and the processes by which people build, maintain, and change their social relationships with others and the broader society in which they live. The course will enhance students' sociological imagination in four general areas of sociological inquiry: social structure, interaction, and change; inequality and diversity; family, health, and environment; and crime, criminal justice, and law.
