

Registrar's Classified Connection Meeting Minutes

February 8, 2006

Amy Margulies of the University Health and Counseling Services (<http://www.uww.edu/uahcs/>) gave a very informative presentation of the services offered at the Ambrose Health Center for UW-W employees and students. I'm sure many UW-W employees are not aware of the extent of the services available to them. Check out their website (above) to find out more.

She walked us through a series of questions so we could pinpoint what our stress triggers are.

She taught us a simple way to quiet our mind and relax to improve concentration and reduce stress.

After Amy's presentation, everyone in the group introduced themselves and where they work.

Terrie Parenteau reported that the results from the survey have been gathered and the group will be meeting with Denise Ehlen from Research and Sponsored Programs to see if there are any rules, etc. as to how the information should be shared and with whom. She stressed that all answers and comments are confidential and results will be shared with the RCC group before being passed along to other administrative groups on campus. She also thanked everyone for participating. There was a 50% response rate for the survey which is absolutely phenomenal!

Jodi Hare from the Registrar's office handed out a draft of the anticipated moves which will take place before the demolition of Salisbury and Baker to prepare for the construction of the new UC and Business and Economics building.
