

A monthly newsletter of major and career exploration tips, events, reminders and advice!

Did you know the AAEC has an Advisor specifically to help with major exploration?!

Kelsey is available by appointment to meet with students who may still need some assistance in exploring different majors and careers. Are you someone who is still undecided and is feeling overwhelmed with the thought of finding your perfect major? Make an appointment with Kelsey, she has different resources and ideas to help you during this process!

How to Explore your Major over Spring Break!

With the week long break coming up this month, this will leave you with some time to do some major and career exploration! Whether you are planning a fun trip with friends or if you are returning home for the week, this is the perfect opportunity to talk to others about what you are thinking as far as a major or career path!

Talk to your family and friends about what you are considering for a major or a potential future career. Your family and friends know you best, so that means they will have insight on what major or career path suits you. They will also be able to guide your exploration by asking you questions or bringing up valid points about a major or career that you are interested in. Sometimes family and friends know us better than we think, so why not run your ideas past them to get their input! Who knows, this could be just what you need to solidify your decision of declaring a major!

Exploration Tip of the Month

Explore majors using the Navigate app!

Download the new Navigate app where you will be able to explore major options that fit your interests and needs!

To download the app, you can visit your App Store or Google Play and search "Navigate Student". After downloading the app, search within the app for "Whitewater".

Log in using your UW-Whitewater NetID and password.
