Additional BBA Transfer Information

All College of Business and Economics grade point average requirements refer to a "combined cumulative" GPA. This GPA computation includes your transfer credits and grades along with your UW-Whitewater credits and grades. This policy means that your transfer record contributes to determining whether you're eligible all College of Business and Economics business courses (2.50 requirement) including freshman- and sophomore-level business courses, junior- and senior-level courses, and for graduation (2.50 requirement).

Your university degree requirements CORE courses may be personalized based on the number of credits you transfer. Be sure upon transfer to register for only the CORE courses required for you.

Regardless of the number of core courses you are required to take, you must meet the university (general education) requirements minimum of 32 units/credits and take the minimum in each area of university (general education) requirements. Your transfer institution may offer courses in a sequence that differs from the UW-Whitewater offerings. The most common examples of this discrepancy are in mathematics and economics. At UW-Whitewater, you will be required to complete finite mathematics unless you transfer in 8 or more credits of calculus. UW-Whitewater also requires courses in both macroeconomics and microeconomics. If you completed microeconomics, you will still need to take macroeconomics, and vice versa.

College of Business and Economics accepts up to 6 credits of transfer courses towards major requirements (300-400 level courses).

All Business students must complete a course with significant international content.

Course equivalencies specified in this guide are subject to change in the event that the course curricula of relevant programs at Northcentral Technical College or at UW-Whitewater undergo revision.

This Transfer Guide is effective Spring25 and shall be reviewed every three years.
