NOMINATION PACKET INFORMATION

The completed nomination packet contains the following items:

For all areas of Excellence Awards: A letter of nomination from the Department Chair

TEACHING AWARD – FACULTY (ROSEMAN NOMINEE)

1. A concise Statement of Teaching Philosophy of no more than two pages. This statement should address the following questions:
   • What are the most important themes of your teaching based on your beliefs about learning and the nature of your discipline?
   • What innovations or new ideas have you incorporated into your teaching in the past year and what have been the results of these innovations?
   • How do you help students facilitate integration of your subject matter into their personal lives?
   • What have you learned from your students about learning, teaching, or the subject matter?
   • How are you continuing to develop in ways which affect your teaching?

2. Four letters of support only.
   • Two from students, one current and one an alumnus.
   • Two from colleagues who have had the opportunity to observe the nominee’s teaching.

3. Other supportive documentation of teaching, if appropriate, (syllabi, journals, etc.)

4. List of courses taught within the last three years with student course evaluations (numerical) provided for each of the courses. Please include a copy of your department’s student evaluation form and a written summary/interpretation of the results by the Chair.

RESEARCH (CREATIVE WORK) AWARD

Application materials must include the following:

1. The nominee’s resume of research activities. The resume should be organized according to the outline below. Items within each category should be listed in reverse chronological order. Activities in progress or results not yet accepted for presentation or publication should be excluded.
   • Bibliography of professional publications. (Attach photocopies of title pages of publications and evidence if publications were referred.)
   • Dates, places, and descriptions of professional exhibits and performances. (Attach evidence if exhibits or performances were juried.)
   • Author(s), titles, meetings, and dates of papers presented at professional meetings.
   • Principal investigator(s), project titles, funding sources, amounts funded, and project periods for grants received.
   • Other evidence or previous recognition of research including fellowships, honors, and awards. (Give year of each.)

2. Letters of recommendation from two respected scholars. Scholars from on or off campus writing letters of recommendation should:
   • Include a paragraph outlining their own position in the field.
   • Discuss the impact of the nominee’s research or artistic work in the field.
   • Limit their letters to a maximum of three pages.
FACULTY SERVICE AWARD

“Service” is defined as contributions to the University, as well as professional and public services activities.

The application, in addition to the letter of nomination, should include a listing of:

1. Contributions to the University include contributions to the governance, administration, operation, reputation, or advantage of the University or the University system.

2. Professional and public service consists of contributions to one’s discipline, art, profession, or to society, provided that such contributions are made as a practitioner of one’s discipline, art, profession, or as a representative of the University or University system. Research activities are excluded from consideration for this award.

3. Additional letters of support, not exceeding three, may be submitted.

ACADEMIC ADVISING AWARD

*It is recommended that College Advising Award department nominees consider the University Advising Award format when submitting materials to the College Excellence in Academic Advising Award committee.

To be eligible, a faculty or staff member must have served as an academic advisor for a minimum of five years in the College of Arts and Communication at UW-W. No more than one nominee from each academic department will be considered for the award. The candidate’s file must include:

1. Nomination of the candidate by his or her home department.

2. A record of the candidate’s advising work including:
   - The number of advisees seen each semester
   - The number of years the candidate has served as an academic advisor
   - Any awards or honors received that are relevant to academic advising
   - Identification of any additional academic advising service provided by the candidate (in the department, college or university) and indications of the success of the candidate’s advisees.

3. A letter of support from the Chair of the candidate’s home department.

4. At least two letters of support from current or former advisees (students or alumni).

TEACHING AWARD- ACADEMIC STAFF (UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC STAFF EXCELLENCE NOMINEE)

Instructional Academic Staff must be employed 50% time or more, and have not received the award in the past three years.

• A faculty member, staff member, an academic department or program may serve as the nominator for a candidate.
