Biography

At the intersection of reputable beats and visionary melodicism, we find Detroit bassist, composer, producer, and educator, Robert Hurst. Robert has enjoyed a stellar career spanning 30+ years, including over 250 critically acclaimed recordings, multiple film scores, 7 GRAMMY Awards, and 4 EMMY Awards, from his eight seasons as the inaugural bassist in the House Band of The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. As a bandleader, his own 8 recordings have all garnered Top Ten and Five Star recognition around the globe.

Robert's most recent project, Black Current Jam, transcends genres and generations with its unique and joyful sound. This album reflects Hurst's upbringing steeped in the jazz tradition in collaboration with influences from his extensive travel to Latin America, Africa, and the Caribbean. With its Detroit-based ensemble and Afro-Cuban percussion, Black Current Jam introduces a warm array of textures and tones that celebrate Detroit in a truly global way.

This performance by Guest Artist Robert Hurst is made possible by a generous contribution from Stefan Gieryn to the Evolution Visiting Jazz Artist Fund.
