

The college offers more than 50 majors and minors for students to choose from. In the fall of 2020, we will be offering a new Master of Science in Cybersecurity, an interdisciplinary degree that will allow students to develop deep expertise in current cybersecurity issues.

The college's students and faculty have been recognized with:

- Fulbright scholarships
- National Science Foundation and National Institutes of Health awards
- Barry Goldwater and Excellence in Education Foundation scholarships.

The STEM Boot Camp is an innovative two-week long summer program that has supported students from underrepresented minority (URM) groups in the areas of science, technology, engineering and math since 2012. Through the program we seek to reduce or eliminate the achievement gap in UW-Whitewater STEM majors by increasing retention and graduation rates of underrepresented students and supporting them in introductory STEM courses that are both a foundation for and a gateway into STEM majors.

Benefits of STEM Boot Camp participation

- Program connections are maintained through weekly lunches with mentors and boot camp alumni
- Regular communication about academic, research, internship and networking opportunities.
- Proven record of increasing student retention of underrepresented minority students.

Donations you make to the STEM Boot Camp fund will allow our program to reach, support and retain more students as they transition from high school to college.
