Financial Aid Checklist

☐ Submit the FAFSA® (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) at www.fafsa.gov
  • The FAFSA is available October 1 for the following academic year.
  • Priority is given to those students that have completed a FAFSA before January 1 using UW-W’s school code: 003926.

  • Your FAFSA cannot be processed without the requested documentation.

☐ Review your Financial Aid Offer
  • The estimated Aid Offer mailing date is February 15 for students with a completed FAFSA.

☐ Accept your aid online, via your WINS account
  • We recommend accepting your financial aid by May 1 (if you receive your Award Letter after May 1, you have 3 weeks from the date we send you your Award Letter to review/accept your financial aid).

☐ Verify your enrollment details

Financial Aid Policies

Enrollment
Financial aid awards are based on actual enrollment for the term in which the aid is awarded. In order for funds to disburse, you must be registered for the same number of credits for which you were awarded aid. Most financial aid programs require at least half time enrollment. It is your responsibility to notify the Financial Aid Office of any changes to enrollment. On the 10th class day of the term, your financial aid will be revised based on the enrollment which is captured on that day.

For details of enrollment requirements, please visit http://www.uww.edu/financialaid/policies/enrollment.

Withdrawals/Return of Title IV Funds
If you withdraw from all courses during a semester, the Financial Aid Office must calculate the amount of financial aid you did not earn. This is determined based on the number of days you attended for the semester. The date of withdrawal used in the calculation is based on the date you submit your intent to withdraw to the Registrar’s Office or the last date of an academically-related activity, if this is known to be different. Unearned funds must be returned to federal, state, and institutional financial aid programs, and in many cases, this will cause you to owe a balance to the university. Once you have completed more than 60% of the semester, you have earned all financial aid for that semester. Your aid eligibility may also have to be recalculated if you stop attending all courses without completing the official withdrawal process.

For full details of how withdrawing from courses impacts your financial aid, please visit http://www.uww.edu/financialaid/policies/withdrawals.

Satisfactory Academic Progress
We are required by federal regulations to monitor that all students are making Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) towards completion of their degree. In order to receive financial aid, students must comply with the three eligibility standards of satisfactory progress:

1. Minimum cumulative grade point average
   a. 1.5 for undergraduate students with 1-36 attempted credits
   b. 2.0 for all other undergraduate students, including transfer students
   c. 3.0 for graduate students

2. Minimum number of successfully completed attempted credits
   a. All students are required to successfully complete at least 67% of their attempted credits

3. Maximum timeframe to completion
   a. All students are only eligible for financial aid for 150% of the published length of their academic program.

Students who fail to meet these standards will not be eligible for federal, state, and most institutional financial aid. SAP is monitored at the end of each spring semester and summer term.

For full details of the requirements for all three components, please visit http://www.uww.edu/financialaid/policies/academic-progress.
