LESSON STUDY is a collaborative, unique and powerful process in which a small group of teachers jointly designs a single class lesson in order to document and assess its effect on student learning & thinking.

In this workshop you will learn about lesson study and the opportunities to become involved in doing lesson study. There will be a brief introduction followed by presentations from two 2008 UW-W Lesson Study teams:

- Modeling the Small Group Process in the required Basic Communication Course - Jeanine Fassl, Sue Wildermuth
- Modeling the SARS Epidemic in a Pre-Calculus Course - Geetha Samaranayake, Fe Evangelista, Julie Letellier
